Appalachian Mountain Spirits LLC (AMS) is certified by the American Distilling Institute as a Craft Distillery and we take great pride in knowing we are making spirits the old fashioned way, by hand. We personally grind our corn, cook/distill/strip our mash, proof our spirits, hand bottle/label and package all within our distillery.

AMS is honored to be awarded multiple Gold and Bronze medals for our spirits from tasting competitions across the country.

Our Distillery is located in the heart of the Appalachian Mountains outside Marion, VA and just three miles from Interstate I-81. We are the only old school, up-in-the-holler distillery in the US that utilizes both locally grown corn and historically correct recipes that are true to Appalachian Moonshiners.
